

PHD SCHOLARSHIP

The Lowitja Institute & Starlight Children's Foundation are excited to offer a PhD scholarship to help better understand the value of humour, laughter and imagination for the wellbeing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples – focusing on the resilience of children and young people.

We're looking for someone to work with us to research this unique, important and fun topic in 2018. We've funded a three-year scholarship open to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander post-graduate students from anywhere in Australia.
